WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed into law a bill regulating internal affairs of labor unions, a landmark of the administration's most important legislative triumphs. It also puts new restrictions on organizational picketing and on secondary boycotts.

The law is designed to curb the use of force and other abuses in labor relations, and to strengthen the National Labor Relations Board's power to enforce its orders.

The measure is strongly opposed by labor unions. The measure is strongly opposed by labor unions.

Highway Deaths Jump in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Highway deaths in Arkansas are up almost 20 per cent over last year's toll, the State Police says.

As of Aug. 31, 301 persons had died in motor vehicle crashes, compared to 262 at the same time in 1958.

The August total was 44, nine more than last August.

Pulaski County led in number of wrecks with 45, followed by Benton County with 27 and Crittenden County with 24.

Group Sounds Integration Compromise

LITTLE ROCK, (AP)—A civic organization is sounding out segregationist and Negro leaders on a compromise plan in the Little Rock school situation.

The Arkansas Federation of Dad's Clubs announced yesterday it is seeking opinions of the leaders on an integration plan proposed recently by Gov. Orval E. Faubus. Under this plan, two of the city's four high schools would be integrated, and two segregated.

A spokesman for the federation said it was believed the plan would comply with federal court desegregation orders and "allow an expression of choice that is now denied a great segment of our population."

The school board rejected Faubus' plan in the belief courts wouldn't accept it.

Segregationists and the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People alike have voiced dissatisfaction with the present integration plan.

World Acclaims Russians for Hitting Moon

BY STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev is flying to Washington Tuesday amid worldwide acclaim for the Soviet feat of landing a rocket on the moon.

Congratulations streamed in today from the six continents for his development in the conquest of space.

American scientists were among the first to hail the handling of the 300-pound lunar probe as a remarkable job of scientific reckoning and marksmanship.

The official reaction of the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration was summed up in Washington by its deputy administrator, Dr. Hugh Dryden.

"We have followed with interest the travel of the Soviet lunar probe to its impact with the moon," Dryden said.

"We wish to congratulate our fellow scientists and engineers on their success in this forward step in the exploration of space."

"We hope that the scientific data obtained in this flight will soon be available for study by the scientists of all countries."

The Soviet news agency Tass picked up a British story quoting Heinz Kaminsky, director of the Bochum Observatory in the Ruhr, as saying the feat could be compared to a rifleman hitting the eye of a fly at a distance of six miles.

Radio Budapest said Hungarian scientists had spotted a dust cloud on the moon when the rocket landed at 12:02 a.m. A black ring was visible for more than an hour after the probe's radio signals stopped on impact, it said, and the scientists expressed belief this outlined a new crater cut into the sand and rock of the moon's surface.

From the British major space tracking station, Prof. A. J. Lovell, director of the huge radio telescope at Jodrell Bank, said: "At the moment of impact the telescope was accurately positioned in the direction of the moon and there is no reason to doubt that the Lunik capsule made impact on the lunar surface."

A leading Soviet astronomer said today the next step in the preparation for landing people on the moon is to set up a robot observatory there.

Aleksander Mikhalov, director of the Pulkovo Astronomical Observatory was heard in London over Moscow radio.

There was no immediate reaction from President Eisenhower. But Saturday, after the Soviets announced the launching of their newest moon rocket, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said: "It has been known for some time that both the Soviets and the United States have had the capability for such shots, and this comes as no surprise."

The Russians were clearly delighted about the success of this effort in the enhancement of Soviet prestige as Khrushchev prepared to start his exchange of visits with President Eisenhower.

Moon Shot Paving Way Man's Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet rocket shot to the moon is the first of many that may prepare the way for the first man on the moon.

Most scientists believe it will be 5 or 10 years before the first earthman, wearing a space suit, steps out upon the surface of the moon.

What will be found? He will probably find the lunar crust covered with a thick layer of dust. Scientists believe cosmic dust and debris have been collecting on the surface for millions of years, undisturbed by wind or rain, since the moon has no effective atmosphere.

But before this, much must be learned. The Soviet rocket carried instruments which could show whether the moon has a magnetic field, or belts of radiation around it, as the earth does.

And scientists want to know if life in any form exists on the moon. If so, it must be hardy to endure the extremes of temperature which run from 250 degrees Fahrenheit in the daytime to 215 below at night.

"They want to examine the dust on the surface, to test one theory that life may have been carried through space to land on the moon after originating somewhere else."

"They also want to know if volcanoes caused the eruptions on the moon, and if so, can the explorers tap the heat by means of borings, to supply warmth, and use the heat to create power."

Man may get to the moon, but chances are much slimmer that he will be able to travel to other planetary systems. Such trips, because of the long distances involved, would require that he approach the speed of light, which is considered by many to be a practical impossibility for man, because of the radiation that would be produced.

At present speeds, such trips would take a lifetime.

Crop Production Shows Increase

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Crop Reporting Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture says production of principal Arkansas field crops is 20 per cent higher than last year.

Dry, hot weather in August hurt crops in some counties although conditions were never considered serious, the report said.

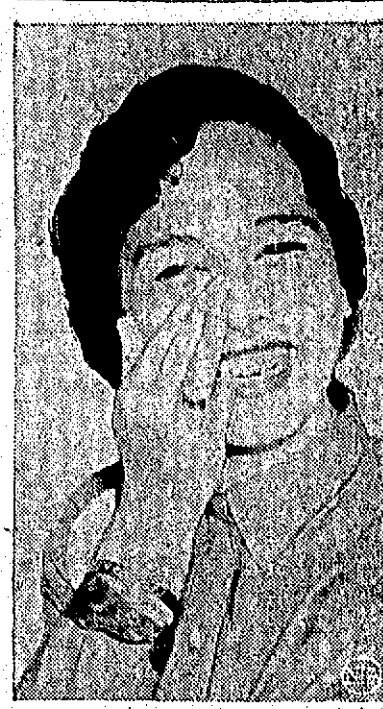

Corn yields are expected this year in rice, cotton, soybeans and corn.

Flags Won't Be Waving on the Moon

WASHINGTON (AP)—If those hammer-and-sickle pennants of the Soviet moon rocket are real flags, they're not waving on the moon—because there is no breeze on the airless moon.

But, as one top American astronomer put it to a reporter, "placing even a dead pennant on the moon is really something."

"I wish we had done it first ourselves," said Dr. Gerald Clemence of the U. S. Naval Observatory.

John M. Raymond, deputy legal adviser to the State Department, said the United States is taking the position that any rocket planting of a flag on the moon would not give the U.S.S.R. or anyone else a claim to rule over it.

However, he added, the United States as yet has "no views on how far you would have to go" to claim moon sovereignty.

The Soviets triumphantly said their moon rocket bore pennants emblazoned with the arms of the Soviet Union and an inscription "The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, September, 1959."

But the Soviet announcement didn't make entirely clear whether the pennants were painted on the rocket's casing—or were regular flags.

However, if they are real flags, they're just lying—standing—limp up there.

The reason is that the moon is a world without air, without wind or weather. It has no atmosphere to speak of.

For the same reason, the rocket's impact on the moon would have been silent. There is no atmosphere to carry sound waves.

Gamblers Report $1.4 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service reports that wagers reported by more than 100 Arkansas bookmakers and gamblers during the fiscal year ended June 30 totaled $1,495,975.

Much income goes unreported despite IRS vigilance, officials said.

Taxes, 10 per cent of the wagers, came to $149,597. The bookies also paid $5,494 for wagering stamps at $50 each.

Federal stamps for coin operated gambling devices, at $250 each, brought in $135,125, a drop from the previous year's 153,794.

Eight Persons Die in State Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Accidents took eight lives in Arkansas during the week ending at midnight yesterday.

Three fatalities occurred yesterday.

William Lee Shaw, 22, a salesman of Vilonia, was fatally injured when his car went out of control and hit an embankment on state Highway 36, 10 miles east of Conway.

Bobby Propps, 21, of Camden, was accidentally electrocuted at Camden when the television antenna wire he was helping to install touched a high-voltage line, police said. The victim's brother, Donny Propps, 23, was unhurt but received treatment for shock.

Fire destroyed a four-room frame house near Smackover, killing Sally Thompson, 6-year-old Negro woman. Clover Lee Oliver, 16, escaped from the burning home with her infant child in her arms. She told police she awakened to find the house on fire, and that the victim had lit a cigarette before going to bed.

Other fatalities during the week included a man crushed by lumber, one killed when a bulldozer overturned and a traffic accident victim. There were no fatal shootings.

J. D. Powell, 30, Killed in Auto Accident

A 30-year-old Hope man was killed near here Friday night when he was hit by an automobile as he stood behind his own car.

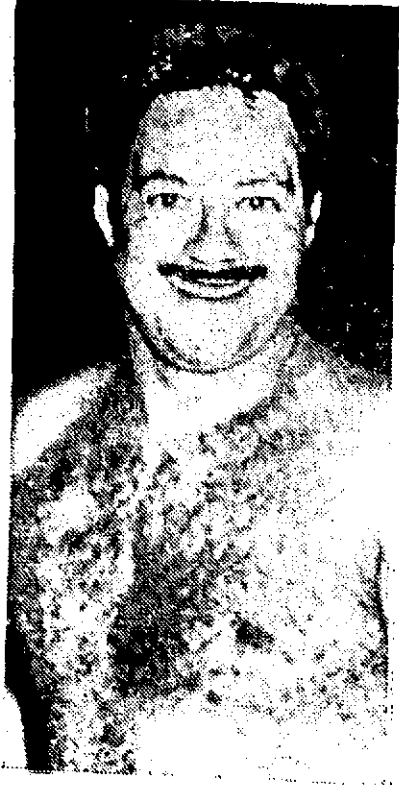

Investigating officers said J. Dempsey Powell died instantly as he was crushed between the oncoming car and his auto about 8:30 p.m. on Highway 29 south of Hope.

H. B. Garder, 40, of Dierks, driver of the car which hit Powell was slightly injured in the crash and his sister, Mary Garder, 45, was seriously hurt. She suffered a broken hip and internal injuries in the accident.

No charges were filed by investigating State Officer Guy Downing.

Like Checks Final Plans for Visit of Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and other top government officials today discussed all aspects of the historic talks Eisenhower will start Tuesday with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The President conferred for 75 minutes at the White House with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson and Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union.

Several other State Department officials also sat in.

The group explored strategy for the Eisenhower talks with the Kremlin leader.

Eisenhower and Khrushchev are scheduled to meet at the White House Tuesday afternoon for their first discussion, for which 90 minutes was been set aside.

That will be shortly after the Communist chief arrives, packing the prestige of the Soviet's new scientific achievement, the weekend bulleseye shot to the moon.

In response to question, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty described today's meeting as a general type of session, "that the President and the people in the government have prior to the visit of any foreign official."

Hagerty added that the discussion "included all aspects of the upcoming visit, not only procedural but topics to be discussed by our side."

While American scientists congratulated the U.S.S.R. on its apparent spectacular success in landing a space capsule on the moon, official Washington seemed unperturbed. The space shot was clearly timed to glorify the Soviet scientific and industrial prowess for Khrushchev on the eve of his American trip.

Nevertheless this new first for Soviet science in the space race seemed certain to get some attention in Eisenhower's meeting with Khrushchev.

House May Ban Trips During Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders may ban junkets next year while Congress is in session. Junkets are those taxpayer-paid trips abroad so dear to the heart of so many congressmen.

Fewer than half the House members were present for Saturday's session. Many of them have been abroad for some time. Others had gone home for the weekend.

That meant Saturday's session lacked a quorum—the attendance of at least half the members. If one member had objected, the House would have had to adjourn until enough of the wanderers were called back. No one objected, so some routine business was taken care of.

Under consideration is a proposed rule that would bar use of public funds for congressional travel overseas while Congress is in session. Any member going abroad at that time would have to pay his own way.

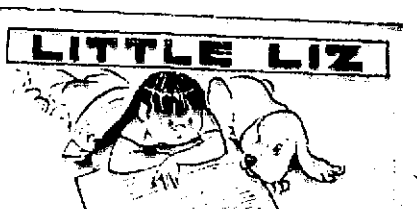

Absenteeism has been a vital factor several times in recent weeks. Some Democrats believe the first veto of a public works bill could have been overridden if absent members had been on hand.

Meanwhile members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee were working on their own preparations for entertaining Khrushchev at an hour-long tea party Wednesday afternoon. The President expects at least half a dozen major problems to be covered in the talks he and Khrushchev will hold here Tuesday afternoon and late next week, following the Soviet premier's return from a tour around the country. ## Butler's New Plan to Draw Fireworks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two proposals by the Democratic National Chairman Pual M. Butler for the National Committee meet here Wednesday's 1960 convention will draw fireworks when the Democratic National Convention opens.

The latest plan, announced by Butler over the weekend, calls for re-allocating votes. Another proposal, announced two weeks ago, deals with the good faith of delegates.

Butler's re-allocation plan would scrap a complicated bonus vote system used since 1944. He called that system not fair or equitable. Under the change, the convention would have 1,375 votes as compared with 1,572 in 1956. A possible 2,550 delegates compared with 2,744 in 1956; and 1,475 votes compared with 1,396 in 1956. Votes would be gained by 52 states and territories over their 1956 allocation, 15 states would lose votes and 7 states would have unchanged voting strength.

The Southern states of Arkansas, Florida and Tennessee would be among those losing strength.

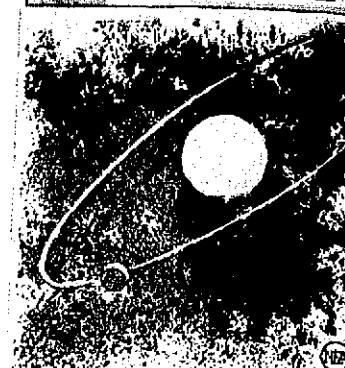

Butler's earlier proposal on the good faith of delegates touched off demands from many Southern leaders that he resign. He showed no concern over the demands and said there was nothing new about his proposal—that it was the same as the compromise rule adopted by the 1956 convention to replace a loyalty oath.

Under the compromise, seating of state delegation might be challenged if their states failed to allow their voters a chance to vote for the convention's nominees, or failed to name electors "pledged formally or in good conscience" to vote for the nominees in the Electoral College.

Butler's new allocation plan would give each state three convention votes for each U. S. Senator, instead of the basic two as before; two and a half votes for each house member; instead of two; and one-half vote for each of its two National Committee members who would be ex-officio delegates.

The bonus system used in 1944 and 1948 gave states four additional votes for returning a maj-

Two additional bonuses were voted in 1956. Four votes each were authorized for states going Democratic in the 1952 presidential race and election of Democratic governor or senator in 1952 or 1954.

Scandals Mean Big Pay for Two Stars

By THOMAS BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movies' two highest paid feminine stars, of the moment, are the central figures of the two biggest movie scandals of the decade.

And in both cases, the big jump in income followed the front page headlines. The stars, of course, are Lana Turner and Elizabeth Taylor.

Miss Turner's first picture after her teen-age daughter fatally stabbed the actress' underworld sweetheart, Johnny Stompanato, was "Imitation of Life." For it, she was offered the best deal of her career—50 per cent of the profits.

Producer Ross Hunter estimates that the actress' cut of the box-office click, Universal-International's biggest of the year, already is two million dollars.

"And that's minimum," says Hunter. "Heaven knows how much higher it may go."

Miss Taylor, since the triangle headlines with Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds, has become the only million dollar salary actress in the business. Marlon Brando is the only other star with a million dollar price tag on his services.

It was not long after the headlines that Miss Taylor's agent asked and received $750,000 plus 10 per cent of the gross for her appearing in "Suddenly, Last Summer" and "Two for the Seesaw."

There's no doubt that she will get the big salary. An informal survey of studio bigwigs, to a man, predicted that she would.

One studio topper, asking anonymously, explained that scripts, good or bad, alone can make or break a talented performer—not headlines.

Advices N. Y. to Dress Up Youngsters

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Everybody is telling New York how to handle its serious teen-age hoodlum problem.

Movie stylist Sy Devore, who was reared on New York's streets, says there is no truer adage than that clothes make the man.

"Dress 'em up," argues Devore. "Sloppy dress is a sign of insecurity. Insecurity breeds delinquency."

"The sweat-shirt school of acting with its scratches and nose pickers did more to demoralize the youth of this country than any slum environment," Devore says.

"When you dress like a bum, it follows that you act like one. When you're dressed like a gentleman, you act gentlemanly."

Devore says he started three years ago to dress up Hollywood's younger set and it's paying off.

"Tommy Sands, Ricky Nelson, the Crosby boys, Fabian, Frankie Avalon and Pat Boone all are good dressers—and neat too."

Miss Lyla Brown, and other friends in Hope, Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Crow were Sunday visitors in Little Rock.

My sister is cheating on him from every angle and she has stories all ready to combat anything anybody says to him. I threatened to tell him about her and she said she's already warned him that I'm trying to get him for myself and will stop at nothing to win him. # Giants Bounce Back Again for 5th Time

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

As tough to catch as a frightened jack rabbit, as hard to hold as a slippery eel, that may be the best way to describe Billy Rigney's San Francisco Giants as they continue to bounce back after every seemingly fatal knock-down.

For the fifth time since they leaped past Milwaukee into first place a little over two months ago the Giants appeared ready for the knockout punch. For the fifth time they came back Sunday to win a big one and open more daylight between themselves and their relentless pursuers.

Their lead reduced to a mere half-game, the Giants had only to lose to Philadelphia Saturday to set the stage for a three-way tie for first place.

The Giants bounced back with a victory Saturday and Sunday for a 1-0 squeaker over the Phillies to boost their first place margin to two games over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who bowed 4-3 to Pittsburgh, and the Milwaukee Braves, who were beaten 3-2 by Cincinnati.

In the other National League game, Chicago shut out St. Louis 8-0.

Chicago's White Sox opened up a 5½ game lead on Cleveland in the American League, defeating Boston 3-1 as New York was taking two from the Indians 2-1 in 11 innings and 1-0. Washington whipped Detroit 5-1 and Kansas City swept a doubleheader from Baltimore 9-5 and 4-1.

Jack Sanford pitched the Giant victory, limiting the Phillies to five hits. But he needed help from Mike McCormick in the ninth. There were two out and Harry Anderson on second, via a double, when McCormick took over and got Ed Bouche to end the game with a fly to Willie Davis.

The lone run, off loser Don Cardwell, came in the second and was driven in by pinch hitter Dusty Rhodes with a sacrifice fly. The stage was set for Dusty when Orlando Cepeda and Willie Kirkland singled and Holie Landrith walked to load the bases. Rigney sent Rhodes in to hit for Danny O'Connell.

Four Pittsburgh home runs ruined the Dodgers. The last was hit by Hank Folter in the eighth, off reliever Chuck Churn, snapping a 3-3 tie. The others were hit by Ray Mejias, Bob Skinner and Dick Stuart off starter Jonny Podres. Ronnie Kline went all the way for his 10th victory.

Eddie Kasko's fourth hit, a seventh-inning single, scored Frank Robinson and enabled the Red's to break a 3-3 deadlock with Milwaukee. Bob Purkey yielded nine hits for his 12th triumph. The loser was Warren Spahn, who was attempting to register 20 victories for the 10th time. He lost his 14th. Eddie Mathews hit his 34th homer for the Braves.

Ernie Banks batted in five runs for the Cubs with a single, sacrifice fly and his 41st home run. Glen Hobbie blanked the Cards on five hits and snapped Ken Boyer's hitting streak at 29 straight games.

Winning Car Going 5 mph at Finish

ELKHART LAKE, Wis. (AP)—A high-powered Lister Jaguar that crawled over the finish line at five miles an hour won the 500-mile Road America Sports Car Race Sunday, but not until nearly five hours after the race was over.

The car is owned by veteran car builder Brierley Cunningham of Green Farms, Conn., who joined Phil Forno of New York City in driving another Lister Jag to fourth place.

The winning car was driven by Ed Crawford of Northfield, Ill., and Walt Hansen of Westfield, N.J., who led from the 23rd lap until the car broke a rear axle, two laps, or eight miles from the finish.

With Hansen at the wheel, the Jaguar crept over the finish line a minute after the checkered flag was given to Roger Penske, Al Leventown, Pa., and Harry Blanchard, Greenwich, Conn., in a Porsche RSK.

A record crowd, estimated at 37,000 saw the race, but they went home without knowing the winner. Officials were unable to determine immediately whether the car, which drove the last 200 miles, led by one lap or two. After a lap-by-lap check of 7,000 positions, it was determined that he was in front by two at the time of the breakdown and thus the winner.

Because of the confusion the first four positions were not announced for 4½ hours and it was 7½ hours after the race that the first 10 finishers were determined.

Its wings are more strongly developed than those of the ostrich. When running, it holds its wings lowered, not raised like the ostrich. Like the Australian emu and ostrich, it is swift of foot. ## Mantle, Yanks Almost Ruin Indians' Chances

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

On July 16, 1957, Billy Goodman hit a home run. Two years and nearly two months—exactly 254 games—went by before he hit another.

The homer Goodman hit two years ago came with a man on base and enabled Baltimore to beat Chicago. The score was 3-1. The homer Goodman hit Sunday also came with a man on base. This time enabled the White Sox to beat Boston. The score? 3-1.

Billy's surprise blow, only his 17th in 12 big league seasons, probably was the most important hit he ever made. It enabled the White Sox to widen their first place lead to 5½ games over Cleveland and all but mathematically eliminate the Indians from pennant contention.

The Indians lost a game and a half to the White Sox as they dropped both ends of a doubleheader to the New York Yankees 2-1 in 11 innings and 1-0. Chicago's magic number now is six. Washington whipped Detroit 5-1 and Kansas City swept a doubleheader from Baltimore 9-5 and 4-1.

San Francisco's Giants boosted their National League lead to two games over Los Angeles and Milwaukee, defeating Philadelphia 1-0 while Pittsburgh was beating the Dodgers 4-2 and Cincinnati was defeating the Braves 3-2. Chicago's Cubs blanked St. Louis 8-3.

Buck Shaw posted his 10th triumph although it took the combined relieving of Billy Pierce and Turk Lown to nail down the White Sox' 89th victory. Goodman's homer was a 400-foot drive into the right field bullpen off Frank Sullivan in the fourth inning. It followed a walk to Jim Landis.

Well pitched games by Cleveland lefty Jack Harshman and right-hander Jim Perry went for nought. Harshman, who had won four straight since his purchase from Boston two months ago, dueling through 10 scoreless innings with Bob Turley of New York. After Turley had left for a pinch hitter, the Indians appeared to have picked up the winning run in the top of the 11th.

Tito Francona literally knocked Ryne Duren out of the box with a line single off the relief pitcher's ankle. Duren had to be carried off the field. Gary Blaylock took over and gave up singles to Rocky Colavito, Russ Nixon and Heide Held. Francona scored on Held's hit but Colavito was thrown out at the plate. Eli Grba stopped the rally.

Tony Kubek singled to open the Yankee 11th. Mickey Mantle, who had been fanned twice by Harshman, then smashed a home run into the left field bleachers. Duke Maas took a pitching duel from Perry in the second game, permitting six hits for his 13th straight, five against Cleveland. The Yankees scored in the sixth on a single by Yogi Berra, Elston Howard's sacrifice and Hector Lopez' single.

Jim Lemon's 31st home run ignited a four-run rally in the eighth that enabled Washington to snap a 1-1 tie and beat Jim Bunning. Hal Woodcock posted his second victory in relief.

Roger Maris' two-run single with the bases loaded featured a five-run 10th inning, enabling the Athletics to snap a 4-4 tie in the opener with Baltimore. Bud Daley, after five straight failures, finally won his 16th for the A's, doling out six hits in the nightcap.

In the opening moments of the second half after Yenger was forced to punt, Camden took over on their own 30.

Several plays later Camden advanced to the Tiger 20 for their deepest penetration of the night. The Tiger defense by Pearson, Ross, and Brandon pushed Camden back to the 28 yard line where they again gambled on fourth down, and lost as the ball was fumbled all the way back to the mid-field stripe and Earl Edwards recovered for the Tigers.

The Tigers resorted to the air lanes for a first down completion from Edwards to Shaw. Camden advanced from the Tigers 30 to the 4 from which Armstrong crossed over for a Camden T. D.

The PAT was successful and the Tigers had a 13-7 edge with about three minutes remaining in the game.

After another quick exchange of the ball Camden was in possession on the Tigers 25, but the clock ran out and the Tigers were on the long end of a 13-7 score.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Give Frank Broyles a little more time and he might shuffle his University of Arkansas Razorbacks lineup to his satisfaction.

The Hog coach has five days in which to finish whipping his team into shape for the opening here Saturday.

Broyles switched end Leslie Lett-singer to fullback last week, and yesterday he moved Dean Garrett from guard to tackle. Other players also have been shifted.

Broyles transferred Garrett after viewing films of Saturday's scrimmage, which the Red units won by a 30-7 score over the White and Orange teams.

Yerger Slams Camden in Grid Upset

By PAT CARR

The Yerger High Tigers, who were 45-0 victims of Camden last year out-ran and out-scored the defending Big Nine Champion Friday night at Coleman Stadium in Camden by a score of 13-7.

On the kickoff, Ed Cornelius received the ball for Camden on his own 31, but was shaken up hard by Earl Edwards and Will Rutherford recovered for the Tigers. Fullback McFadden carried to the 15. This deep penetration was halted as the Tigers fumbled on the Camden 34 yard line where they gambled on a fourth-down play and lost as linemen, Knox, Criner and Turner used great defensive maneuvers. Camden was penalized and the Tigers got a first down on the 20.

Reed scampered around right end to the Camden 8. McFadden crossed the goal line untouched but the T. D. was nullified by a Tiger penalty. On fourth down McFadden crossed over again for the first score of the game. The try for extra point failed and the Tigers led 6-0 at the end of the first period.

A Tiger pass was intercepted at the mid-field stripes by L. C. Young. Trotter then was thrown for a 15 yard loss. On a fourth down fake point which ended in a pass interception by Reed, the Tigers were rolling again. McFadden sliced 12 yards down the middle to the Camden 42. Halfback Reed swept off right end and McFadden crossed safely to give score.

In the opening moments of the second half after Yerger was forced to punt, Camden took over on their own 30.

Several plays later Camden advanced to the Tiger 20 for their deepest penetration of the night. The Tiger defense by Pearson, Ross, and Brandon pushed Camden back to the 28 yard line where they again gambled on fourth down, and lost as the ball was fumbled all the way back to the mid-field stripe and Earl Edwards recovered for the Tigers.

After another quick exchange of the ball Camden was in possession on the Tigers 25, but the clock ran out and the Tigers were on the long end of a 13-7 score.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Give Frank Broyles a little more time and he might shuffle his University of Arkansas Razorbacks lineup to his satisfaction.

The Hog coach has five days in which to finish whipping his team into shape for the opening here Saturday.

Broyles switched end Leslie Lett-singer to fullback last week, and yesterday he moved Dean Garrett from guard to tackle. Other players also have been shifted.

Broyles transferred Garrett after viewing films of Saturday's scrimmage, which the Red units won by a 30-7 score over the White and Orange teams.

"I think the move will help the team," Broyles said. "Garrett has a desire to play and I think he'll play some football for us."

Garrett will be at right tackle, behind Jim Hollander and John Childress.

Broyles said he still has more lineup changes in mind. He was openly grim after Saturday's game.

"We're going to have to play better than we did this afternoon to beat Tulsa," he said at the time.

Defensive play was strong in the spotty, but offensive sparkle.

Highly-touted halfbacks Lance Alworth and Bruce Fullerton missed the scrimmage — Alworth was out with a virus infection and Fullerton with a sprained ankle.

THE DARK FANTASTIC

BY WHIT MASTERSON

THE STORY: The Kaisar-i-Rum, a tramp steamer whose crew may be infected with plague, has eluded port authorities in Mexico. The captain denies, however, that it carried passengers or subsidiary cargo it was supposed to carry, and also that there had been any sickness aboard.

Chapter VII

"Wait a minute," Cloris said. "Certainly, you don't intend to leave it there, do you? All we've got so far is the freighter's word for it."

"But, my dear young lady," Slatore explained in an exasperation, "Why in the world would the freighter lie about a thing like this?"

"I don't know," Cloris said frankly. "Perhaps they're not really lying. Perhaps they're ignorant—or behind schedule. Or perhaps they have something to hide."

"Perhaps. But that's the whole trouble with this business, had been from the beginning. It's all based on perhaps."

"Two men are dead from plague. That's not perhaps."

"Plague? So far you're the only one to so identify it. What I saw on those slides was an outsize bacillus, bulbed at one end, not immediately classifiable. You talk of a mutant pestil strain but I can't identify it as anything yet and neither could your father, both of us medical men."

Cloris eyed him coldly. "You keep forgetting, doctor, that I have a degree in medicine, too. I studied six years for it and I wear glasses probably for the same reason you do—I've worn out my eyes trying to keep up with the medical journals. So please don't esauate me with a nineteenth century horse doctor. Veterinary medicine is now abreast with general medicine. In fact, there are a great many practices and techniques that we use first because most medical experimentation is conducted with animals."

"I'm sorry, doctor," said Slatore. "I didn't intend to impugn your profession. But let me remind you that all we have to connect these deaths with the Kaisar-i-Rum is the raving of a Greek sailor who could hardly speak English—transmitted through a man who was obviously sick himself."

"There's a way to make sure," Cloris pointed out. "Ask Mexico to seize and search the Kaisar-i-Rum."

"Now look here," Slatore said angrily, "my department can't go around asking a foreign country to seize the ships of another country."

"The ship's heading for Chile. Do you remember what happened down there during the last influenza epidemic, how bad it was?"

"I do," Gabe Wise said quietly. "They were a trifle startled, they had all forgotten him, standing unobtrusively beside the door. 'I don't know much about plague but I do know a bad smell when I come across it. And this whole thing smells bad to me. I don't like those flat denials of everything. No chimpanzee, no passenger, no subsidiary cargo—bang, bang, right down the line. I'll add another one, no business a Mazatlan. Why should a tramp freighter, that operates on a small margin of profit anyway, detour out of its way to put into Mazatlan, just to pick up water and fuel? It doesn't make any sense—unless it had cargo or passengers, or both, aboard that had to be unloaded there."

"You heard what the port authorities said," Cloris said. "Sure. But there's more than one way to skin a cat—or fool a port director. If you want to know what this sounds like to me, I'd put my money on contraband of some sort. Maybe narcotics, since the Kaisar-i-Rum comes from the Middle East."

Kelso chewed on his cigar. "Well, it's a thought."

"Do you believe in this plague scare or don't you?" Slatore demanded.

"As far as I'm concerned, that's just an extra added attraction. But for one reason or another, the Kaisar-i-Rum has got to be stopped and investigated."

There was a moment of silence. Cloris, watching, held her breath while Kelso considered and Slatore frowned. Finally, Kelso sighed. "Okay, you won. I'll phone Aguilar. But that's the end of it. If he says no dice and you still want to catch that freighter, you're going to have to swim for it."

The launch's course was roughly northwest as it had been all day, ever since leaving Mazatlan. A third man came off to join the two others. He was a husky man of good height and an ingratiating smile. His gaunt features and bulging forehead and abnormally deep-set eyes of milky blue gave his face the appearance of a skull. And, like a skull also, his eyes had no lashes; a searing fever in early childhood had rendered him hairless. His eyebrows penciled on and always his head was covered with the best wig that money could buy, a brown wavy creation that fooled everyone but himself.

His name was Steve Guthrie, he was an American, and his occupation was making a profit. He began, dressing fastidiously as if he was old enough to afford it, to let everybody know that Steve Guthrie was getting that little more from life. Even now, his khaki shirt and trousers were sharply pressed and immaculate. His leather flying jacket was oiled to a rich amber shade and the victor of his rakish officer's hat cleaned with polish, as did his low boots and the holster of his .45 automatic. Around his throat was knotted a white silk scarf. Under the scarf, at the back of his neck he wore a short knife in a scabbard, as secret as his baldness.

matter of FACT

Because the Indians sometimes used the red juice of the bloodroot plant for face paint or dye, it is also known as "Indian paint" or "red puccoon." It gets its commonest name from the fact that an orange-red fluid that looks somewhat like blood oozes from the root and stems when they are broken. The plant is a member of the poppy family, and is one of the earliest spring flowers in the woods of the eastern U.S. and Canada.

May Arraign Five in Bombing Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arraignment of five men charged in the Labor Day bombings here are expected today.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Frank Holt said last night he would ask for quick arraignment and a speedy trial of the five in charges of destroying property with explosives.

The men are E. A. Lauderdale Sr., 48; J. D. Sims, 35; Jesse Raymond Perry, 24; John T. Coggins, 30, and Samuel G. Beavers, 49. Coggins and Beavers are charged on one count, the others on two counts. The Little Rock School Board offices, Mayor Werner Knapp's business office, and Fire Chief Gann Nalley's station wagon were hit in the blasts.

BENTON, Ark. (AP)—A Pulaski County white man charged in the alleged rape of a Negro woman goes on trial in Saline Circuit Court today.

The defendant is Bobby Burnett, 21.

Prosecutor Lawson E. Glover has said he will ask for the death penalty.

Burnett and another Pulaski County white man were arrested after the alleged rape of the 21-year-old Negro woman on June 14. The woman told officers she men lured her from her home on the pretext of a babysitting job and took her to a rural area of Saline County where she was attacked.

Both Burnett and the other man, Ben Sanders, 26, of Perendale, were committed to the State Hospital for mental observation. Burnett was found sane. Sanders was adjudged insane and kept at the institution.

Burnett pleaded innocent at his formal arraignment July 22. Bond was denied by Judge Henry E. Means.

Man to Trial at Benton on Rape Charge

BENTON, Ark. (AP)—A white man charged in the alleged rape of a 21-year-old Negro woman went on trial in Saline Circuit Court today.

Bobby Burnett, 21, of near Little Rock, pleaded innocent to the charge.

The Negro woman accused Burnett and another white man, Ben Sanders, 26, of Perendale, of raping her June 14 in a rural area of Saline County.

She told officers the men lured her from her home on the pretext of a babysitting job. The men were examined by psychiatrists at the State Hospital after their arrest and Burnett was declared sane. Sanders was adjudged insane and was kept at the institution. He will not be tried.

Prosecutor Lawson E. Glover indicated he would seek the death penalty for Burnett, a carpenter. It appeared the trial would be a lengthy affair. Judge Henry E. Means of Malvern summoned a special panel of 30 jurors after one panel of 45 jurors was exhausted.

Means informed the original jury panel that a conviction of Burnett for rape would carry a death sentence or imprisonment for life. He asked all jurors who opposed the death penalty to stand. Twenty-five of the 45 rose and were excused by the judge.

A number of others were excused for different reasons.

Burnett's 20-year-old wife was seated with him at the counsel table. He has been in jail since his arraignment July 22. Means denied bond.

Authorities said a white man never has been executed for the rape of a Negro woman in Arkansas.

Court Cancels Law to Hurt the NAACP

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today cancelled a state law designed to hamper the National Assn. of the Advancement of Colored People.

The 1957 act would have required certain organizations to report on finances, membership and other matters to the state Sovereignty Commission.

The law was written in general terms, but sponsors conceded that the NAACP was its prime target.

The Supreme Court also struck out parts of a companion act which set up the Sovereignty Commission, which backers said would aid the state in preventing or postponing integration.

The high court said on nullification section would have permitted examination of records and other documents without a search warrant or legal process of any kind.

The court also said a section authorizing six legislators to serve on the commission was in violation of the constitution.

That leaves the commission without a backbone.

Both Burnett and the other man, Ben Sanders, 26, of Perendale, were committed to the State Hospital for mental observation. Burnett was found sane. Sanders was adjudged insane and kept at the institution.

Burnett pleaded innocent at his formal arraignment July 22. Bond was denied by Judge Henry E. Means.

Big British Plane Said to Be Missing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A four-engine plane which the pilot said was attached to the British Embassy in Washington, D.C., was missing today, the Federal Aviation Agency said.

Whereabouts of the plane, with an undetermined number of persons aboard, posed a mystery to officials.

According to a flight plan filed at noon Sunday by the pilot, Paul Parron, the plane was scheduled to take off at 1 p.m. from the Los Angeles International Airport for Seattle. It was due at Seattle at 8:50 p.m.

In Washington, British Embassy sources said today they were mystified by reports that an embassy plane was missing.

They also said a check of all British air force people attached to the embassy did not disclose the name of any pilot named Paul Parron.

The FAA said in a check of all hangars at the airport the plane was not found. There was no confirmation in any report that the plane had ever taken off.

E. E. Wise, British consul-general at Los Angeles, expressed belief the plane was one which had come from Washington within the last couple of days.

British Ambassador Sir Harold A. Caccia arrived at Seattle Sunday by commercial airliner. He was quoted as saying he knew nothing about the plane.

Air search began from the Los Angeles area early today.

Runaways Cause Some Excitement

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Two Pine Bluff boys who had run away from home landed here this weekend. One kept running and kept police and many citizens in the chase for hours.

Even radio stations lent a hand with bulletins on progress of the flight.

It started Saturday when officers said, the boys stole a motorcycle and put-popped to El Dorado—the former home of the 13-year-old boy. His companion is 14.

Police put out a statewide alert on the boys and friends of the family at El Dorado heard it—and they spotted the boys later. They caught them and locked them in the bathroom of a house.

Undaunted, the 13-year-old kicked out a window, grabbed the motorcycle which was parked nearby, and took off. Neighbors and police chased him. The radio sta-

AFB School Is Quietly Integrated

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An elementary school for Air Force personnel was quietly integrated here last week.

Ten Negro pupils in the school with 600 white pupils were enrolled. Two girls were eligible, but didn't enter local schools.

No military were on hand. Sgt. E. J. Smith said he did not know about it. The school is near about 15 miles north of Little Rock.

The school is a consequence of a court decision since all-white high schools in the area were closed. The result of an agreement threatened to withdraw assistance if segregation continued.

The school built funds and serving at the Little Rock Air Force Base. It was operated by the Little Rock School District.

Other rural schools were segregated.

Theodore Roosevelt came President, bought ranches in North Dakota, promptly named a deputy Billings County.

Each time the officers zip!—the young man ded out from under his lawn to lawn and grabbed him.

Both boys were released. Bluff.

FACE OF THE SUN—This photograph of a sunspot, probably the sharpest ever made, was taken from a balloon 80,000 feet above the earth. It was made as part of Project Stratoscope, sponsored by the Navy and the National Science Foundation, who are launching manned balloons from Boulder, Colo., to find out what effect the sun has on weather. The sunspot consists of a dark core of cool gases embedded in a strong magnetic field and surrounded by filamentary major disturbances in long-range radio communications.
